PRESIDENT EBERT SIGNS SIEGE PROCLAMATION

GENERAL STRIKE AND ATTEMPT OF SPARTAN LEADERS TO ESCAPE PROMPTED DRASTIC ACTION

PROCLAMATIONS FROM AIRPLANES

COPENHAGEN, April 18.—Berlin has been declared in a state of siege as a result of the general strike, disatches from there stated today. Proclamations to this effect were dropped upon the city from government airplanes which were signed personally by President Ebert. Herr Eichorn, former Police President and Spartan leader, attempted to escape from Berlin by airplane yesterday but was overtaken by government airplanes and forced to land. He is now in jail.

PARIS, April 18.—A dispatch to the "Matin" today reported that Bolshevik forces have occupied Sebastopol, indicating the Bolsheviks have cleared the entire Crimean Peninsula of Allied troops.

TURKEYS ROASTING NOW FOR SERVICE MEN'S BANQUET

Everything is set and in readiness for tomorrow's testimonial banquet to the service men of this community which will be held at The Dimoline Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

As it was impossible for the Committee to get in touch with and visit personally every soldier, sailor and marine in the community they hope at least have heard of the affair and understand that they are not only welcome but expected at the banquet.

While this is a testimonial from the patriotic people of this community to their loyal sons, any soldier, sailor or marine in this community tomorrow evening regardless of his residence or home town, will be welcome at the banquet and will also be expected to attend.

The feed will be there, the music and entertainment will be there and every soldier, sailor and marine will confer one more lasting favor upon Clearfield people if they will be there.

DEATH TOTAL IN BREST COLLISION MOUNTS HIGHER

BREST, April 18.—Casualties in the troop train collision yesterday near Lemans were given out today as sixteen American soldiers killed, six French soldiers killed, fifteen Americans injured and thirty French injured. The collision it was stated today was due to the troop train being forced to halt because of a breakdown. Torpedo signals were placed one thousand yards in the rear. The engineer of the special train following the troop train is said to have heard the signals but was unable to stop his train owing to the grade and the high speed at which his train was moving.

WHY AMERICA CAN LEAD IN AIR

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
BERLIN, March 31. (By Mail.)—Lying to American can be done, but it will never be a practical means of navigating the oceans, either the Atlantic or the Pacific, according to Ferdinand Rasch, director of the Zeppelin works at Staaken. Rasch was one of the principal engineers who developed the giant German planes for use in bombing London, planes which would carry several hundred bombs and were three times as large as a "gotha."

Rasch said the Zeppelin people have decided it is not worth while trying to develop air navigation to America. Planes would have to carry so much fuel that there would be little room for either passengers or baggage. As mail service, the planes would be useful, but they would not be as fast as the cable, and using them for post would be an expensive matter, unless governments did it.

For shorter distances, Rasch sees no end of possibilities and the Zeppelin people are preparing to use their works producing a new peace machine. For cross country work there is nothing to compare to airplanes, according to Rasch, but the air must be internationalized, everywhere, except possibly in America, if air navigation is to be made the most of.

"European countries are too small to make air service worth while, especially with the huge Zeppelin airplanes," says Rasch. "The route that planes will be most useful for will be from Berlin to Paris or London, Rome or Constantinople. That is where the great savings in time will count."

"Going from one city to another in Germany, for example, will be all right for small planes, but it will not be nearly as big a possibility as the overland routes from country to country. To do this successfully, the air must be internationalized, for the benefit of all countries."

"America is the only country where this will not apply for all other countries are too small to keep a large air force in them. I look for the most remarkable aerial development in America where they are vast areas uncovered by railroads, or where railroads have to go around mountains."

"Planes can follow routes that will save hundreds of miles and hundreds of hours, both of which will appeal to Americans. In addition, Americans have the energy and capital to develop the air route possibilities, while European concerns are depleted in finances."

Rasch says the Zeppelin people are

Italy Insisting On Rights Under Her Pre-War Secret Treaty

At Loggerheads With Allies Because Of Refusal To Accept Abrogation Of Old Treaties

WILSON ARBITER OF DISPUTE

By FRED S. FERGUSON

PARIS, April 18.—The Italians are reported to be threatening to block the entire peace settlement unless their claims are recognized. This developed at the meeting of the Big Four today when the Italian claims for territorial reparation were being discussed. According to reliable information the Italians take the position that the Pact of London on which their claims are based not only grants their demands but pledges all their signatories to stand together for a simultaneous peace. As the Italians see it they could overturn the whole peace settlement if not in accord with their claims and then call upon the signatories to the Pact of London to stand with them on their claims. Certain of the Allies, led by the Americans, have maintained that by the acceptance of the armistice terms the Italians as well as all others have abrogated all secret treaties such as the Pact of London. President Wilson who has been placed in the role of arbiter of the rival Italian and Hugo Slavs has made it known that he will not deviate from his stand on a settlement on the basis of the fourteen points.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The situation at the peace conference continues to improve according to private advices received here today at the White House. A message from Rear Admiral Grayson, the personal physician to the President, states that the Chief Executive has entirely recovered from his recent illness.

DRYS LOOKING TO CONGRESS TO PASS DRY ENFORCEMENT

WASHINGTON, April 18.—"Drys" are relying on Congress to settle at one stroke the question of who will enforce both war time and constitutional prohibition," E. C. Dunwiddie, President of the Anti-Saloon League announced today. Dunwiddie said his organization very early in the coming session will urge the enactment of a bill to put the enforcement of both brands of prohibition in the hands of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. "The debate as to who will enforce prohibition has been raised by the opposition in desperation. Commissioner Roper's statement that he had no power to enforce war time prohibition was fair and truthful but somewhat twisted. I am confident that Congress will provide adequate means of enforcing the law."

TELEPHONE STRIKE SITUATION AT BOSTON SERIOUS

Boston, April 18.—The situation in telephone strike throughout New England was tense today following serious clashes between strike sympathizers and strike breakers in which several students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology were beaten. This is the fourth day of the strike with no indication of a break in the ranks of the strikers. Postmaster General Burleson's proposal that the operators wage scale be submitted to General Manager Driver of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has been rejected by the joint committee of the telephone workers and electrical workers. Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts today telegraphed Mr. Burleson asking if he would allow the state to take over the telephone system and operate it until the Federal Government can effect a settlement. Should Burleson agree it is planned that the state government attempt to have the operators return to work under state control.

expecting Americans to take up the Zeppelin engine, and build factories to produce it in America. Dirigibles require a house big enough to enclose the Vatterland, the world's greatest steamer, and are more subject to wind changes. These factors make the plane the cheapest and most useful for peace work.

WHY THE BANKS SHOULD NOT TAKE THE VICTORY LOAN

Why short term notes instead of bonds in the coming Victory Liberty Loan?

E. Pusey Passmore, governor of the Philadelphia Federal Reserve bank, answers the question by saying that the primary purpose is to keep banking resources "liquid."

"The banking institutions of the country are now carrying a very large amount in total of government war loans of previous issues," he said, "and it would be a serious mistake to ask them to add to their present holding a very large share of the coming issue—a mistake which would be reflected in the curtailment it would necessitate in lines of commercial credit to firms, corporations and individuals."

"It is of the utmost importance that banking resources be kept liquid for commercial requirements in order that the progress of readjustment now going on may be expedited and a return to more nearly normal pre-war conditions be brought about at the earliest possible moment."

Governor Passmore calls attention to the fact that despite the heavy financial exactments of the war, this country is very rich.

"The war has taken comparatively little money out of the country," he says, "and the bulk of the war loans has gone into high wages to labor and large profits to productive industry. Savings deposits have grown tremendously and other general banking deposits have at least shown no decrease."

"The money is here and the appeal in the coming loan must be made to those who now possess it. Because of their short term and the satisfactory rate of interest which they bear, the new notes will appeal to business men and our great commercial interests as well as to investors generally even without the pressure of war."

"The loan will go well, but it is absolutely essential to realize for it the widest possible measure of distribution."

LOAN WORKERS FULL OF ENTHUSIASM ON HEARING MR. LUDLOW

About two hundred Liberty Loan workers gathered at the New High School building last evening to meet, greet and hear Benjamin H. Ludlow, the energetic, bustling Chairman of the Third Federal Reserve District whose every waking moment is taken up with the matter of putting the Victory Liberty Loan over in a manner which will leave no doubt of the 100 per cent Americanism of the people of his district.

A number of our leading Loan workers had had the previous good fortune to hear Mr. Ludlow at Altoona some weeks ago and while they tried to tip the rest of us off to what we could expect from the gentleman on the occasion of his visit to Clearfield, nobody was prepared for the whirlwind of sailing optimistic patriotism which breezed so pleasantly to the centre of the platform following his introduction by Speakers' Chairman Smith, and at once launching forth in his message to all patriotic Americans, carried the breathless attention of his auditors for an even sixty minutes while he poured into them the things it was not only good but necessary for them to hear.

He outlined the plan of campaign and then proceeded to advise the worker how to proceed in order to sell the quota for the district. He punctuated his sober, serious advice with wit and humor which not only stamped him the finished platform speaker but carried his message deep into the hearts of all present.

In speaking of the necessity for putting the Victory Loan over with a smash Mr. Ludlow touched upon the heroic sacrifices made by the 2,000,000 Yankee boys who walked right into the mouth of hell on the battlefields of France and forever stopped the Hun in his war mad fury. In manhandling the grouch, after naming all the different varieties, he referred to the case of the young Clearfield county boy whom he met and talked to at Tyrone on his way here. This young man, who was Willis Gearhart, son of A. C. Gearhart, of Blue Ball, despite most grievous wounds in battle, which caused the loss of an eye and other serious injuries, was chock full of enthusiasm over America's part in the war and exuded a brand of optimism which should serve to drive every grouch and pessimist out of the country.

Mr. Ludlow made a lasting impression on his audience and his visit to Clearfield will be productive of great good in the coming campaign.

Many workers from different sections of the county were present.

The meeting was presided over by District Chairman H. B. Powell; Rev. Father Rice, of Houtzdale made the opening prayer while Speakers Bureau Chairman W. Wallace Smith introduced the speaker of the evening.

Knight's Saxophone Orchestra furnished delightful music during the evening while Hon. Joseph E. Phillips led the audience in singing a couple of patriotic selections as curtain raisers.

CLEARFIELD COUNTY TO BUILD 6 MILES OF ROAD

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OUTLINE THEIR POLICY AT CLEARFIELD COUNTY GOOD ROADS ASSOCIATION MEETING

NEGLECTED SECTION TO BENEFIT

The regular meeting of the Clearfield County Good Roads Association held in the Arbitration room of the Court House at Clearfield yesterday afternoon, as per the provisions of the by-laws of the association, was attended by more than fifty good road enthusiasts, although DuBois and the western side of the county was not adequately represented.

The meeting was called to order by President A. E. Leitzinger, of Clearfield. The minutes of previous session were read and approved and then President Leitzinger announced that State Highway Commissioner Sadler had announced that his department recognized three classes of roads in the State, viz:

1. Primary roads, or through trunk line roads, which would be constructed by the State alone out of the $50,000,000 Sproul bond fund recently voted.

2. Secondary roads or State aid routes running from county seat to county seat. These roads to be constructed by the State and County under the old 50-50 plan or if State funds not available for 80 per cent the County and Township to provide the remainder even though it might mean as much as 70 per cent from the latter sources. This in view of the release of liability for construction of through routes.

3. Townships or lateral roads. The State had no funds with which to participate in construction or maintenance on such roads, such improvement to be made entirely by County and township.

Hon. Joseph E. Phillips also explained the State Highway Department plan more fully along this line. He stated that there was now available for State aid roads some $80,000 all of which would have to be spent on roads of the No. 2 class entirely.

Mr. Leitzinger then announced that following the passing of the road from Ocoola to Madera on the route leading from Bellefonte to Edinburg the County Commissioners had decided to raise approximately $200,000 and with this $200,000 would arrange to construct two miles of road leading from Houtzdale to Madera and one mile leading from Madera toward Houtzdale on this route and two miles leading from Mahaffey toward Lumber City on the route between Edinburg and Clearfield.

A motion was unanimously adopted sanctioning the action of the County Commissioners.

A statement was then read which showed that 22½ miles of State aid roads had been constructed in Clearfield county since the road law went into effect in 1905 at a cost of $616,000. With the exception of a piece totaling less than one mile built in Bigler township at a cost of $5,200 none of this money had been spent for roads in the eastern and southern section of the county, which would now be served under the arrangement noted above.

Messrs. J. D. Connelly, H. S. Whitman, Jr., and R. H. Sommerville were appointed a committee on resolutions and they reported a resolution asking State Highway Commissioner Sadler to proceed to advertise for bids for the construction of three sections of road on Route 59 between DuBois and Clearfield and Bigler and Ocoola and give his reasons for failure to do so. This resolution was telegraphed to Harrisburg at once. The resolution follows:

Whereas, Upon the occasion of the visit of representatives of this Association and the Clearfield County Commissioners to the State Highway Department at Harrisburg in February last State Highway Commissioner Sadler stated that his Department would advertise for bids for construction of at least three pieces of road on Routes 57 and 59 between Ocoola and DuBois within a period of 60 days and

Whereas, More than the time specified by Commissioner Sadler having expired and no advertisement or other move looking to the construction of this work being in sight therefore it is

Resolved, That the attention of Commissioner Sadler be called to the oversight or apparent neglect of Clearfield county in the matter of highway construction and that he be requested to proceed with the advertisement for bids for the pieces of road on these routes between Ocoola and Clearfield and Clearfield and DuBois at once, or if it is impossible to do so that he acquaint the Clearfield County Good Roads Association with the reason for the delay, in order the same may be removed or corrected and the work be proceeded with as soon as possible.

The following resolutions were presented and unanimously adopted. Whereas, the road leading from Clearfield to Mahaffey via Ocoola is a rapidly developing section of Clearfield county and should be immediately constructed or improved the Sproul route of State aid roads should be maintained. Therefore be it

Resolved, That the members of the Legislature from Clearfield be requested to introduce a bill to take this road property off the list of State aid roads of the State.

The same is equally true of the road leading from Clearfield to Mahaffey which passes through the towns of O'Shanter, Glen Richey, Ocoola, Millport, and we also ask that the Legislature introduce a bill to take this road in the State aid maintenance roads.

That the Clearfield County Good Roads Association petition the Highway Department to support the bill now before the legislature for a Sproul route road from Allport to Bigler to take the place of route No. 219 from Kyrlestown to Bigler which has been vacated, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Highway Department and to each of the members of the Legislature from this county.

Treasurer Whitman's report showed a balance of $443 in the treasury. The local Good Roads Association of Graessli sent in a list of sixty-three members who desired to join the county association, with a check for $43 to pay their dues.

As it is expected that the $200,000 to be raised by the County Commissioners will build at least a mile of road more than was listed in the report of the Commissioner adopted by the convention J. D. Connelly, of Clearfield, moved that this mile be constructed on the Edinburg-Bellefonte route between Irwin and Coalport, a section where it is badly needed and which has never had any consideration. The motion was seconded by R. D. Swoope, of Curwensville, and after some discussion, in which the claims of Cooper township were advanced, the motion was adopted.

Applications for State aid roads were received from Huston, Brady, Lawrence, Goshen, Cooper and Sandy townships and placed on file in the order received to await the providing of funds for their improvement. Following the million dollar bond proposition to be voted on in November, the applications for improvement of township roads which will have to be built by the county and township alone, without any State aid up to follows, in the order of their priority:

1. Karthaus to Clearfield via Ocoola.

2. Tyler through Pothold to Sandy township line.

3. Pike township from Curwensville to Olan.

4. Lawrence township, O'Shanter to Glen Richey.

5. Brady township, a total of 7½ feet on three roads.

6. Cooper township from Graessli.

BREWERS OF BANNED PERCENTAGE BEER TO BE PROSECUTED

Every brewer who has been selling beer brewed since December 1, 1918, with an alcoholic content of one-half of 1 per cent or more is facing a two-year term in jail and a $5000 fine as a result of a decision made yesterday by Ephraim Lederer, collector of internal revenue. This provides for the immediate prosecution of all the brewers who are accused of having defied President Wilson's proclamation, and field agents of the Internal Revenue department will immediately be set to work rounding up offenders. This will include a number of Philadelphia brewers according to one dealer, who said that virtually all have been brewing beer of 2 3-4 per cent. alcohol and a number have been selling it under the advice of counsel. He declared that the brewers would welcome the opportunity to clear up all doubt on the subject by a court decision.

Harry A. Poth, of the Frank A. Poth Brewing company said that the brewers would welcome the test case, as it would force a definition of "intoxicating" liquor. "All we want is our rights," said Mr. Poth. "Congress and the President have both enacted regulations which have to do with intoxicating and non-intoxicating liquors, but no where is 'intoxicating' defined. We wish to state our case to a jury of twelve men and have them decide. We are prepared to produce expert testimony to prove that 2 3-4 per cent. beer is not intoxicating and we wish to have the question settled finally, as our whole business depends upon this question."

"Of course, all beverages containing more than one-half of 1 per cent. of alcohol are required to have revenue stamps. Thus the brewers making the 2 3-4 per cent. beer will probably ask for the stamps and if they are refused will place the money for the stamps to one side. "While I personally do not know of any local brewer who sold the higher percentage beer, nevertheless, if they did so they did it under the advice of our counsel, Messrs. Guthrie and Root. "Statistics prove that the 2 3-4 per cent. beer only has eight-tenths of an ounce of alcohol in a quart of the beverage and this same quart weighs thirty to ounces. The eight-tenths is scattered throughout the entire quart and we can prove that this beverage is non-intoxicating."

Collector Lederer made this statement: "Word has just been received from Commissioner Roper to report to the United States district attorney for prosecution of all brewers who are selling beer of alcoholic content of one-half of one per cent. or more which was made on or after December

Under President's Order

The order comes as the direct result of President Wilson's action in prohibiting the manufacture of intoxicating liquors in order to effect a conservation of grain. Originally all brewing was to have been stopped by this order on December 1, 1918. Later, however, with the end of the war, the President modified his drastic order to allow the manufacture of near beer and other nonintoxicating beverages. Ethu Root and William D. Guthrie were retained by New York brewers to aid them in their fight. The two attorneys fixed the nonintoxicating beverages at the 2 3-4 per cent. alcoholic content. The brewers immediately determined to follow the advice of their counsel, and they were followed by Philadelphia brewers. Commissioner Roper appealed to Attorney General Palmer to rule on the intoxicating qualities of the beer containing less than the 1 1-2 per cent. alcohol.

While the courts have invoked no decision to aid the brewers, the announcement by the internal revenue officials was taken to mean that the attorney general had decided against the brewers.

ANIMAL AND BIRD DISPLAY AT THE Y. M. C. A.

A large crowd of people visited the big free bird and animal show at the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The large stork and talking parrot and Jack Mohney's wild cat are attracting much attention. The Camp Fire booth is beautifully decorated showing their costumes and bead work. They are serving candy and good eats. There is special music and singing every evening. Large, beautiful trout are entered each evening. Open every evening until Saturday evening at 10 o'clock.

You are all invited to the Sunday afternoon meeting at 4 o'clock to hear the truth about the truth. Across the Dead Line Into Amusement. Every body invited.

Your Engine Was Designed to Use Gasoline

When your automobile or truck was just some lines and curves on a sheet of tracing-paper, Gasoline was the fuel its internal-combustion engine was designed to use.

True, the London taxicabs operated during the war with a huge gas-bag on top. But that was a war necessity. The precious petrol was needed to drive the tanks and lorries and airplanes.

You wouldn't care to drive your machine today with a balloonful of asphyxiation aboard.

All of which is by way of saying that Gasoline is the fuel for you to use. Beware the magic fuels that claim to displace Gasoline and the "pills" that claim to improve it.

With a Gasoline Engine, stick to Gasoline.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Thomas K. Barnes, wealthy New Yorker, on a walking trip through New England, is caught in a storm miles from his destination. At a crossroads point he meets a girl in the same plight. While they discuss the situation an automobile, sent to meet the girl, arrives and Barnes is given a lift to Hart's tavern, while the girl is taken on to her destination. The girl is Barnes in a place called Green Fancy.

CHAPTER II—At the tavern Barnes falls in with a stranded troupe of "barnstorming" actors, headed by Lyndon Hushcroft, and becomes interested in them.

CHAPTER III—As the storm grows, Barnes finds himself worrying over the safety of the girl, traveling over the mountain roads in the darkness of night. He learns that Green Fancy is something of a house of mystery. Two mounted men leave the tavern in a manner which arouses Barnes' curiosity.

CHAPTER IV—He meets "Miss Thackeray," leading lady of the stranded theatrical troupe, who is acting as a nursemaid. That night he is aroused by the bringing of a dying man to the tavern, one of the two who had ridden away a short time before. They tell of finding the dead body of the other man. Both had been shot.

CHAPTER V—The wounded man, registered at the tavern as Andrew Allen, and Barnes is informed he must not leave until after the inquest. O'Dowd and De Soto, guests at Green Fancy, leave the tavern, apparently much mystified over the affair.

CHAPTER VI—Barnes advances Rushcroft money sufficient to release the company from its embarrassing position, thereby becoming its official backer. He visits Green Fancy, and in the grounds meets his acquaintance, Lyndon Hushcroft, finding her a girl of surprising beauty.

CHAPTER VII—She seems not to be desirous of recognizing him, and turns away. O'Dowd appears and in apparently friendly fashion escorts Barnes (who feels he is unwelcome) from the grounds.

CHAPTER VIII—Miss Thackeray warns Barnes that a man stopping at the tavern, especially at such a late hour, is his baggage in his absence. O'Dowd comes to the tavern and with Barnes and others goes over the scene of the night's shooting. Barnes is invited to dinner at Green Fancy.

CHAPTER IX—His acquaintance of the storm is introduced as Miss Cameron. The makeup of the house party is entirely a man introduced to him as "Loeb," and the number of men servants about the place, somewhat astounds Barnes.

CHAPTER X—Miss Cameron informs him she is a prisoner in the house, appealing to him for aid and binding him to secrecy. In conversation with the chauffeur who drives him back to the tavern, Barnes becomes convinced there is a conspiracy of moment hatching at Green Fancy.

CHAPTER XI—At breakfast the supposed book agent introduces himself as Sprague, a government secret agent. Sprague tells Barnes he is there to watch the party at Green Fancy, describing them as refugees from a country overrun by the Germans. He also tells that Miss Cameron is a relative of the "Loeb" of the devastated country and that she or "Loeb" have with them the crown jewels of enormous value, which Sprague would recover.

CHAPTER XII—Barnes agrees to accompany Sprague on a nocturnal visit to Green Fancy, Sprague with the object of securing the jewels, and Barnes with the hope of rescuing "Miss Cameron."

CHAPTER XIII—They enter the grounds in safety, Sprague overcoming two men evidently on guard, reaching the house. Barnes sends up, by means of a fishing rod carried by Sprague, a note to "Miss Cameron," informing her of their intention to enter the house. She tries to dissuade them, but Sprague climbs to her room and goes through it in a quest for the crown jewels and state papers.

CHAPTER XIV—Barnes becomes uneasy at Sprague's long absence and follows him, climbing by means of the ivy attached to the wall. While talking to "Miss Cameron" in the confusion in the house where they find Sprague has been detected. Barnes, with Miss Cameron clinging to him, makes his escape to the ground. He loses his sense of location and they become lost, finally taking refuge in a small shed. "Miss Cameron" explains how she was deceived by the house, and was to be married to her will to the man "Loeb," whom she reveals as a prince of the house to which she belongs. They are surprised in the darkness by O'Dowd.

CHAPTER XV—O'Dowd demands the jewels, which he thinks the fugitives have in their possession, not knowing of Sprague's capture. Convinced neither "Miss Cameron" nor Barnes have them, O'Dowd puts them on the right road to the tavern, where Barnes gives the party into the care of Miss Thackeray. Next day O'Dowd tells Barnes Sprague, whom he describes as an expert burglar, got away with the treasure, after killing a guard in the house. O'Dowd and "Loeb" leave Green Fancy.

CHAPTER XVI—Barnes tells "Miss Cameron" of Sprague's treachery and she tells him the whole story of Green Fancy. The man known as Loeb is her cousin, and he is invited to the house with the object of possessing himself of the jewels, which were in her custody.

CHAPTER XVII.

The Second Wayfarer Is Transformed. O'Dowd returned late in the afternoon. He was in a hurry to get back to Green Fancy; there was no mistaking his uneasiness.

"For the love of heaven, Barnes, get her away from here as soon as possible, and do it as secretly as you can," he said. "I may as well tell you that she is in more danger from the government secret service than from anyone up yonder."

"She may prefer to face the music," O'Dowd said. "If I know her at all, she will refuse to run away."

"Then you'll have to kidnap her," said the Irishman earnestly. "There will be men swarming here from both sides of the border by tomorrow night or next day. It's the gospel truth, and it's going to be bad for all of us if we're here when they come."

"Who is she, O'Dowd? Man to man, tell me the truth. I want to know just where I stand."

O'Dowd hesitated, looked around

the taproom, and then leaned across the table.

"Miss Cameron is in reality the Countess Therese Mara-Dufanda—famously and lovingly known in her own land as the Countess Ted. She was visiting in this country when the war broke out. If it is of any use to you, I'll add that she would be rich if Aladdin could only come to life and restore the splendors of the demolished castle, refill the chests of gold that have been emptied by the conquerors, and restock the farms that have been pillaged and devastated. In the absence of Aladdin, however, she is almost as poor as the ancient church mouse. So there you are, me man. Half the royal progeny of Europe have been suitors for her hand, and the other half would be if they didn't happen to be of the same sex. Good-by. I must be on my way." He rose and held out his hand. "Good-by and good luck forever!"

"You are a brick, O'Dowd. I want to see you again. You will always find me."

"Thanks. Don't issue any rash invitations. I might take you up." Barnes started upstairs as soon as O'Dowd was off, urged by an eagerness that put wings on his feet and a thrill of excitement in his blood. Halfway up he stopped short. A new condition confronted him. What was the proper way to approach a person of royal blood? He would have to think. Posing at her door, he was at once aware of voices inside the room.

He rapped on the door, but so unceremoniously that nothing came of it. His second effort was productive. He heard Miss Thackeray say "good gracious," and, after a moment, Miss Cameron's subdued: "What is it?"

"May I come in?" he inquired, rather ashamed of his vigor. "It's only Barnes."

"Come in," was her lively response. "It was awfully good of you, Miss Thackeray, to let me hear your lines. I think you will be a great success in the part."

"Thanks," said Miss Thackeray dryly. "I'll come in again and let you hear me in the third act." She went out, mumbling her lines as she passed Barnes without seeing him.

"I hope you will feel able to leave this place tomorrow, countess. We must get away almost immediately."

"Ah, you have been listening to O'Dowd, I see."

"Yes, he tells me it will be dangerous to—"

"He is right. It would be difficult for me to clear myself. No one would believe that I did not deliberately make off with the jewels. They would say that—oh, it is too dreadful!"

"Don't worry about that," he exclaimed. "You have me to testify that—"

"How little you know of intrigue," she cried. "They would laugh at you and say that you were merely another fool who had lost his head over a woman. They would say that I duped you—"

"No!" he cried vehemently. "Your people know better than you think. You are disheartened, discouraged. Things will look brighter tomorrow."

"I don't know what I should do without you," she said.

What The Clearfield National Bank Trust Service Means

A DISTINCTIVE feature of modern financial development—the trust service of a National Bank provides what can not be found in any one individual, no matter how experienced, capable, honest or responsible he may be.

This Bank, with its capital, surplus and profits of over $400,000.00; its stockholders' liability of $400,000.00 can now extend this responsibility to its patrons in any of the duties incident to Trusts:

This includes acting as trustee in all particulars, as executor, administrator, guardian of estates, committee of estates, assignee, receiver, agent, attorney in fact, registrar of stocks and bonds, trustee under corporate mortgage, etc.

THE EXISTENCE OF THIS BANK IS PERPETUAL AND
TRUST DUTIES WILL HAVE UNINTERRUPTED
ATTENTION THROUGH GENERATIONS

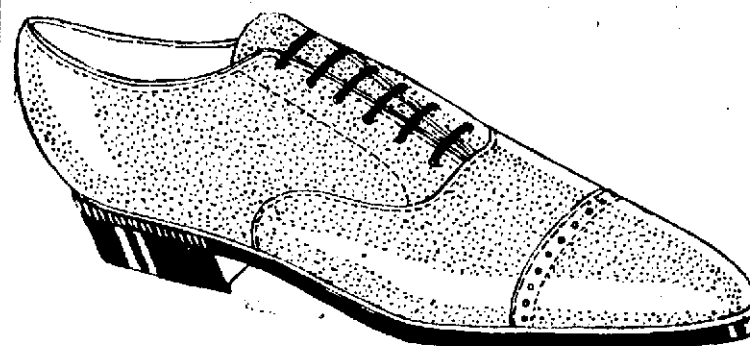

Whoever has accumulated property, even of modest proportions, and would conserve it to his heirs through experience, economical, and safe administration, needs this trust service.

"I feel less fear in traveling through the submarine zone than I did when stomach trouble and gastritis fastened themselves on me," said John R. Rogers, 4334 Frankford ave., Philadelphia, who made two trips to Scotland during the world war. "But Tanlac put an end to my fears. It knocked the stomach trouble and banished belching gas, sour stomach and that ugly taste in the mouth."

SHEEP ENDANGERED BY ENACTMENT OF HOUSE MEASURE

The Far in Bureau has been informed that immediate action is necessary if our present Dog Law is to be held intact. The Pennsylvania Dog Law is not perfect, but it is generally known and described as the best dog law in the United States. At a representative meeting in Harrisburg last winter, sheep raisers and farmers decided to offer no amendments to it and to oppose any effort to tamper with it. Now a bill (House Bill 1000) amending the Dog Law passed the House of Representatives and is now in the hands of the Agricultural Committee of the Senate. This bill cuts out of Section 18 of the Dog Law, the authority of police officers to kill unlicensed dogs, which so amends the Dog Law as to make it worthless. There is considerable pressure back of this bill and it will take decided action to defeat it. The way to kill it is to let every Senator know that farmers are emphatically opposed to any tampering with the best dog law in the United States. Every sheep grower and farmer who is interested in sheep as well as business men should write to S. J. Miller of Madera, our Senator, for this district and urge him to do all that he can to oppose the passage of the Bill. It took years to get our present Dog Law. This law has meant a decided growth in the sheep industry and if this growth is to be continued we must put our shoulder to the wheel and protest for our just rights.

Wool growers, farmers, business men and citizens, every one interested in more economical production of wool, write today! Delay may mean defeat. Act at once.

CHICAGO WASTES LITTLE FOOD

(By United Press)
Washington April 16.—Chicago is the most economical of food among the nation's big cities.

Chicago throws away less food, cuts her potato peelings most thinly, and consumes crusts of bread that make rosy cheeks.

This is indicated by a survey of garbage collection made by the Pittsburgh Sanitary Commission, whose figures are used by the government experts in directing national campaigns for waste elimination.

Washington, the survey shows, is the most prodigal since her municipal garbage pail each year contains 243 pounds of discarded food per inhabitant. Cleveland, with a discard of 166 pounds per person is in the wasteful class. New York despite its title as the big spending town, discards only 157 pounds per person. Chicago discards but 80 pounds per person.

Municipal garbage pails of some other big cities contain: Baltimore 211 pounds per person; Cincinnati 233 pounds; Pittsburgh 236 and Kansas City 209.

Chicago also leads other cities in low costs on garbage collection. She pays but 13 cents per capita for this service each year; St. Paul gets the work done for 17 cents while Cleveland pays 34. Cleveland, however, realizes more from sale of products made from the garbage, since her income from this is $5.20 per ton, while that of Chicago is but $4.24.

Cleveland's high income from reduction products puts her ahead of Chicago, experts found in comparing net cost of collection plus disposal. Cleveland's net cost is $1.54 a ton, while that of Chicago is $2.73.

Experts say Cleveland would be far in the lead if she could reduce collection costs.

Great Britain has 5,400 square miles of coal fields.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

L. L. Hile, of Altoona, representing Seabie & Parker Co., of Pittsburgh, dealers in agriculture implements, hardware automobile supplies, etc., visited the patrons of that establishment in this section this week.

Postmaster George Kittberger has been notified by the department that live stock, of the smaller calibre, can be shipped as parcel post matter. Animals consisting of pigs, goats, dogs, chickens, and all such like are listed.

The desecrating of cemeteries by vandals and ill-behaved and thievish knaves is a common thing and it is to be regretted that marauders have not been summarily dealt with and the law resorted to more frequently that the practice might be wiped out. Too many persons of supposed refinement and delicacy have thought nothing of plucking the budding flower or shrub from its resting place on a grave, and with the class a grade lower the downright theft of plants and shrubs is usual. In Curwensville, where few such vandals would be supposed to exist, young people can patrol the cemetery grounds and unblushingly rob the shrines of the dead of the remembrances of friends and even lot owners are said to have transferred flowers and shrubs from other lots to their own. Comment is unnecessary, and it is the intention to hereafter place these brutish thefts before the public and in the hands of the law for redress, and this heathenish part of the matter will doubtless be attended to. The deliberate plucking of flowers is second only in enormity to stealing the plant and it is to be hoped that all persons so bereft of delicacy as to engage in such nefarious violation of principle and property will also be promptly dealt with. Last year, after Memorial day had passed, many complaints were heard that flowers that had been placed on the graves were taken and no trace of them could be found.

The way we sometimes measure things is mysterious: How apt we are to whip out the foot rule of egotistic self-conceit and undertake the measurement of the grandest things in the universe. It is but natural that we do this—measure all things and people from our own standpoint—yet how desirable is that control of the faculties alluded to, which assures to everything and everybody a just respect. A large class of people can give due respect to the great things of the world but fall short in the everyday hustle and bustle of contact with the little things of existence; perhaps nineteenth of God's human creation are either extreme or moderate egotists without knowing it; and even the finding of the foot rule in the pockets of a subject would not convince him of his falling.

Manufactories of any kind are a blessing to a town if the labor employed is sufficient to stimulate trade by the added population. A little intelligent investigation and planning will often secure such things yet citizens are usually slow very slow, to help themselves by such action.

Memorial Day will soon be upon us. What is Curwensville going to do in regard to its observance? Time is everything; do not wait until the last minute to prepare for it.

Lex Bailey of Philipsburg, who has been serving in overseas duty for several months and who was returned to this country a short time ago, spent yesterday with friends here.

I Certainly Am Glad I Tried It

"I first bought Purity Margarine to use in my cooking, but I found it so good and tasty that I soon promoted it to the dinner table. And now I wouldn't have anything else."

"I say this not only because it sells for one-third less per pound than butter, but because I really like its flavor. 'Butter's successor' is what they call it, and that's exactly what it is."

"You color 'Purity' at home with the very same coloring that the butter manufacturers use to color butter, and hardly one person in a hundred can tell the difference."

"As for food value, I learned the other day that the proportion of fat in margarine is exactly the same as in an average specimen of butter. That's an interesting thing to remember."

80TH DIVISION IS EXPECTED TO COME HOME LATE IN MAY

According to letters received by relatives of men in the Eightieth Division, they will arrive by May 15, if not earlier.

The Eightieth Division, mobilized and trained at Camp Lee, comprises more Pittsburgh and Allegheny County men than any other fighting unit sailing for France. There are Pittsburgh boys in the Three Hundred and Seventeenth, Three Hundred and Eighteenth, Three Hundred and Nineteenth and Three Hundred and Twentieth Infantry regiments in the Three Hundred and Fifth Field Signal Battalion, in the Three Hundred and Fifth Engineer Corps, and in the Three Hundred and Thirtieth, Three Hundred and Fourteenth and Three Hundred and Fifteenth Machine Gun Battalions.

The Eightieth Division, according to word received in Washington, passed from the command of the First Army corps March 20, having been instructed at that time to prepare for return to the United States. An official review of the division's achievements since its arrival in France May 30, 1918, is given in a general order signed by W. M. Fasset, chief of staff to Maj. Gen. Wright and by Lieut. Col. H. M. Nelly, adjutant.

The division trained with the British troops and was on active duty with them in the Artois sector, near Arras, in July and August, 1918. The division was in reserve at the battle of St. Mihiel, except the Three Hundred and Twentieth Infantry and the Three Hundred and Fifteenth Machine Gun Battalion, which took part in the operations of the Second French Colonial corps. From September 26 to 29, inclusive, the division attacked at Bethincourt with the Third Corps and advanced nine kilometers in two days.

Then the division was withdrawn from the line for five days, and again attacked October 4 at Nantillois. In nine days of heavy fighting through the Bois Des Ognons an advance of four kilometers was made. Then the division was again withdrawn from the line (October 12) for re-equipment and replacements. The men moved forward October 29 and 30 and re-entered the line at St. George-St. Julien.

The Eightieth division passed under the orders of the First Army Corps October 23 in the Le Claux-Le Neufour area, west of the Argonne forest. The division attacked November 1, as the right division of the First Corps, and in six days advanced six kilometers. The division was relieved from the line November 6, with its patrols on the west bank of the Meuse.

From November 18 to December 1 the Eightieth marched 221 kilometers to the Fifteenth training area at Ancy-le-France. The artillery of the division was part of the time detached from the division and was in action from September 26 to November 11. The division remained in the Fifteenth training area up to the time it received order to prepare for embarkation.

The Eightieth division, according to general orders, was given difficult tasks on the front line, and "in accomplishing them made a splendid record." The corps commander expressed his appreciation for the soldierly achievements of the division during the time it served with the First Corps. "The division," says the order, "leaves on the first part of its journey with the corps commander's congratulations for its excellent record and his wishes for a speedy return to the United States and a successful future."

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects. Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

TURKEYS ROASTING NOW FOR SERVICE MEN'S BANQUET

Everything is set and in readiness for tomorrow's testimonial banquet to the service men of this community which will be held at The Dimoline Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

As it was impossible for the Committee to get in touch with and visit personally every soldier, sailor and marine in the community they hope at least have heard of the affair and understand that they are not only welcome but expected at the banquet.

While this is a testimonial from the patriotic people of this community to their loyal sons, any soldier, sailor or marine in this community tomorrow evening regardless of his residence or home town, will be welcome at the banquet and will also be expected to attend.

The feed will be there, the music and entertainment will be there and every soldier, sailor and marine will confer one more lasting favor upon Clearfield people if they will be there.

DEATH TOTAL IN BREIT COLLISION MOUNTS HIGHER

REST, April 18.—Casualties in the troop train collision yesterday near Lemans were given out today as sixteen American soldiers killed, six French soldiers killed, fifteen Americans injured and thirty French injured. The collision it was stated today was due to the troop train being forced to halt because of a breakdown. Torpedo signals were placed one thousand yards in the rear. The engineer of the special train following the troop train is said to have heard the signals but was unable to stop his train owing to the grade and the high speed at which his train was moving.

WHY AMERICA CAN LEAD IN AIR

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
BERLIN, March 31. (By Mail.)—Lying to American can be done, but it will never be a practical means of navigating the oceans, either the Atlantic or the Pacific, according to Ferdinand Rasch, director of the Zeppelin works at Staaken. Rasch was one of the principal engineers who developed the giant German planes for use in bombing London, planes which would carry several hundred bombs and were three times as large as a "gotha."

Rasch said the Zeppelin people have decided it is not worth while trying to develop air navigation to America. Planes would have to carry so much fuel that there would be little room for either passengers or baggage. As mail service, the planes would be useful, but they would not be as fast as the cable, and using them for post would be an expensive matter, unless governments did it.

For shorter distances, Rasch sees no end of possibilities and the Zeppelin people are preparing to use their works producing a new peace machine. For cross country work there is nothing to compare to airplanes, according to Rasch, but the air must be internationalized, everywhere, except possibly in America, if air navigation is to be made the most of.

"European countries are too small to make air service worth while, especially with the huge Zeppelin airplanes," says Rasch. "The route that planes will be most useful for will be from Berlin to Paris or London, Rome or Constantinople. That is where the great savings in time will count."

"Going from one city to another in Germany, for example, will be all right for small planes, but it will not be nearly as big a possibility as the overland routes from country to country. To do this successfully, the air must be internationalized, for the benefit of all countries."

"America is the only country where this will not apply for all other countries are too small to keep a airplane in them. I look for the most remarkable aerial development in America where they are vast areas uncovered by railroads, or where railroads have to go around mountains."

"Planes can follow routes that will save hundreds of miles and hundreds of hours, both of which will appeal to Americans. In addition, Americans have the energy and capital to develop the air route possibilities, while European concerns are depleted in finances."

Rasch says the Zeppelin people are

Italy Insisting On Rights Under Her Pre-War Secret Treaty

At Loggerheads With Allies Because Of Refusal To Accept Abrogation Of Old Treaties

WILSON ARBITER OF DISPUTE

By FRED S. FERGUSON

PARIS, April 18.—The Italians are reported to be threatening to block the entire peace settlement unless their claims are recognized. This developed at the meeting of the Big Four today when the Italian claims for territorial reparation were being discussed. According to reliable information the Italians take the position that the Pact of London on which their claims are based not only grants their demands but pledges all their signatories to stand together for a simultaneous peace. As the Italians see it they could overturn the whole peace settlement if not in accord with their claims and then call upon the signatories to the Pact of London to stand with them on their claims. Certain of the Allies, led by the Americans, have maintained that by the acceptance of the armistice terms the Italians as well as all others have abrogated all secret treaties such as the Pact of London. President Wilson who has been placed in the role of arbiter of the rival Italian and Hugo Slavs has made it known that he will not deviate from his stand on a settlement on the basis of the fourteen points.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—The situation at the peace conference continues to improve according to private advices received here today at the White House. A message from Rear Admiral Grayson, the personal physician to the President, states that the Chief Executive has entirely recovered from his recent illness.

DRYS LOOKING TO CONGRESS TO PASS DRY ENFORCEMENT

WASHINGTON, April 18.—"Drys" are relying on Congress to settle at one stroke the question of who will enforce both war time and constitutional prohibition," E. C. Dunwiddie, President of the Anti-Saloon League announced today. Dunwiddie said his organization very early in the coming session will urge the enactment of a bill to put the enforcement of both brands of prohibition in the hands of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

"The debate as to who will enforce prohibition has been raised by the opposition in desperation. Commissioner Roper's statement that he had no power to enforce war time prohibition was fair and truthful but somewhat twisted. I am confident that Congress will provide adequate means of enforcing the law."

TELEPHONE STRIKE SITUATION AT BOSTON SERIOUS

Boston, April 18.—The situation in telephone strike throughout New England was tense today following serious clashes between strike sympathizers and strike breakers in which several students of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology were beaten. This is the fourth day of the strike with no indication of a break in the ranks of the strikers.

Postmaster General Burleson's proposal that the operators wage scale be submitted to General Manager Driver of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company has been rejected by the joint committee of the telephone workers and electrical workers.

Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts today telegraphed Mr. Burleson asking if he would allow the state to take over the telephone system and operate it until the Federal Government can effect a settlement. Should Burleson agree it is planned that the state government attempt to have the operators return to work under state control.

expecting Americans to take up the Zeppelin engine, and build factories to produce it in America. Dirigibles require a house big enough to enclose the Vatterland, the world's greatest steamer, and are more subject to wind changes. These factors make the plane the cheapest and most useful for peace work.

WHY THE BANKS SHOULD NOT TAKE THE VICTORY LOAN

Why short term notes instead of bonds in the coming Victory Liberty Loan?

E. Pusey Passmore, governor of the Philadelphia Federal Reserve bank, answers the question by saying that the primary purpose is to keep banking resources "liquid."

"The banking institutions of the country are now carrying a very large amount in total of government war loans of previous issues," he said, "and it would be a serious mistake to ask them to add to their present holding a very large share of the coming issue—a mistake which would be reflected in the curtailment it would necessitate in lines of commercial credit to firms, corporations and individuals."

"It is of the utmost importance that banking resources be kept liquid for commercial requirements in order that the progress of readjustment now going on may be expedited and a return to more nearly normal pre-war conditions be brought about at the earliest possible moment."

Governor Passmore calls attention to the fact that despite the heavy financial exactments of the war, this country is very rich.

"The war has taken comparatively little money out of the country," he says, "and the bulk of the war loans has gone into high wages to labor and large profits to productive industry. Savings deposits have grown tremendously and other general banking deposits have at least shown no decrease."

"The money is here and the appeal in the coming loan must be made to those who now possess it. Because of their short term and the satisfactory rate of interest which they bear, the new notes will appeal to business men and our great commercial interests as well as to investors generally even without the pressure of war."

"The loan will go well, but it is absolutely essential to realize for it the widest possible measure of distribution."

Ira Stee who works at Sandy Ridge was here seeing his family on Wednesday.

LOAN WORKERS FULL OF ENTHUSIASM ON HEARING MR. LUDLOW

About two hundred Liberty Loan workers gathered at the New High School building last evening to meet, greet and hear Benjamin H. Ludlow, the energetic, bustling Chairman of the Third Federal Reserve District whose every waking moment is taken up with the matter of putting the Victory Liberty Loan over in a manner which will leave no doubt of the 100 per cent Americanism of the people of his district.

A number of our leading Loan workers had had the previous good fortune to hear Mr. Ludlow at Altoona some weeks ago and while they tried to tip the rest of us off to what we could expect from the gentleman on the occasion of his visit to Clearfield, nobody was prepared for the whirlwind of sailing optimistic patriotism which breezed so pleasantly to the centre of the platform following his introduction by Speakers' Chairman Smith, and at once launching forth in his message to all patriotic Americans, carried the breathless attention of his auditors for an even sixty minutes while he poured into them the things it was not only good but necessary for them to hear.

He outlined the plan of campaign and then proceeded to advise the workers how to proceed in order to sell the quota for the district. He punctuated his sober, serious advice with wit and humor which not only stamped him the finished platform speaker but carried his message deep into the hearts of all present.

In speaking of the necessity for putting the Victory Loan over with a smash Mr. Ludlow touched upon the heroic sacrifices made by the 2,000,000 Yankee boys who walked right into the mouth of hell on the battlefields of France and forever stopped the Hun in his war mad fury. In manhandling the grouch, after naming all the different varieties, he referred to the case of the young Clearfield county boy whom he met and talked to at Tyrone on his way here. This young man, who was Willis Gearhart, son of A. C. Gearhart, of Blue Ball, despite most grievous wounds in battle, which caused the loss of an eye and other serious injuries, was chock full of enthusiasm over America's part in the war and exuded a brand of optimism which should serve to drive every grouch and pessimist out of the country.

Mr. Ludlow made a lasting impression on his audience and his visit to Clearfield will be productive of great good in the coming campaign.

Many workers from different sections of the county were present.

The meeting was presided over by District Chairman H. B. Powell; Rev. Father Rice, of Houtzdale made the opening prayer while Speakers Bureau Chairman W. Wallace Smith introduced the speaker of the evening.

Knight's Saxophone Orchestra furnished delightful music during the evening while Hon. Joseph E. Phillips led the audience in singing a couple of patriotic selections as curtain raisers.

CLEARFIELD COUNTY TO BUILD 6 MILES OF ROAD

NEGLECTED SECTION TO BENEFIT

The regular meeting of the Clearfield County Good Roads Association held in the Arbitration room of the Court House at Clearfield yesterday afternoon, as per the provisions of the by-laws of the association, was attended by more than fifty good road enthusiasts, although DuBois and the western side of the county was not adequately represented.

The meeting was called to order by President A. E. Leitzinger, of Clearfield. The minutes of previous session were read and approved and then President Leitzinger announced that State Highway Commissioner Sadler had announced that his department recognized three classes of roads in the State, viz:

1. Primary roads, or through trunk line roads, which would be constructed by the State alone out of the $50,000,000 Sproul bond fund recently voted.

2. Secondary roads or State aid routes running from county seat to county seat. These roads to be constructed by the State and County under the old 50-50 plan or if State funds not available for 80 per cent the County and Township to provide the remainder even though it might mean as much as 70 per cent from the latter sources. This in view of the release of liability for construction of through routes.

3. Townships or lateral roads. The State had no funds with which to participate in construction or maintenance on such roads, such improvement to be made entirely by County and township.

Hon. Joseph E. Phillips also explained the State Highway Department plan more fully along this line. He stated that there was now available for State aid roads some $80,000 all of which would have to be spent on roads of the No. 2 class entirely.

Mr. Leitzinger then announced that following the passing of the road from Ocoola to Madera on the route leading from Bellefonte to Edinburg the County Commissioners had decided to raise approximately $200,000 and with this $200,000 would arrange to construct two miles of road leading from Houtzdale to Madera and one mile leading from Madera toward Houtzdale on this route and two miles leading from Mahaffey toward Lumber City on the route between Edinburg and Clearfield.

A motion was unanimously adopted sanctioning the action of the County Commissioners.

A statement was then read which showed that 22½ miles of State aid roads had been constructed in Clearfield county since the road law went into effect in 1905 at a cost of $616,000. With the exception of a piece totaling less than one mile built in Bigler township at a cost of $5,200 none of this money had been spent for roads in the eastern and southern section of the county, which would now be served under the arrangement noted above.

Messrs. J. D. Connelly, H. S. Whitman, Jr., and R. H. Sommerville were appointed a committee on resolutions and they reported a resolution asking State Highway Commissioner Sadler to proceed to advertise for bids for the construction of three sections of road on Route 59 between DuBois and Clearfield and Bigler and Ocoola and give his reasons for failure to do so. This resolution was telegraphed to Harrisburg at once. The resolution follows:

Whereas, Upon the occasion of the visit of representatives of this Association and the Clearfield County Commissioners to the State Highway Department at Harrisburg in February last State Highway Commissioner Sadler stated that his Department would advertise for bids for construction of at least three pieces of road on Routes 57 and 59 between Ocoola and DuBois within a period of 60 days and

Whereas, More than the time specified by Commissioner Sadler having expired and no advertisement or other move looking to the construction of this work being in sight therefore it is Resolved, That the attention of Commissioner Sadler be called to the oversight or apparent neglect of Clearfield county in the matter of highway construction and that he be requested to proceed with the advertisement for bids for the pieces of road on these routes between Ocoola and Clearfield and Clearfield and DuBois at once, or if it is impossible to do so that he acquaint the Clearfield County Good Roads Association with the reason for the delay, in order the same may be removed or corrected and the work be proceeded with as soon as possible.

The following resolutions were presented and unanimously adopted:

Whereas, the road leading from Clearfield to Mahaffey via Ocoola is a rapidly developing section of Clearfield county and should be immediately constructed or improved the Sproul route of State aid roads be maintained. Therefore be it Resolved, That the members of the Legislature from Clearfield be requested to introduce a bill to take this road property off the list of State aid roads of the State.

The same is equally true of the road leading from Clearfield to Mahaffey which passes through the towns of O'Shanter, Glen Richey, Ocoola, Millport, and we also ask that the Legislature introduce a bill to take this road in the State aid maintenance roads.

That the Clearfield County Good Roads Association petition the Highway Department to support the bill now before the legislature for a Sproul route road from Allport to Bigler to take the place of route No. 219 from Kyrlestown to Bigler which has been vacated, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the Highway Department and to each of the members of the Legislature from this county.

Treasurer Whitman's report showed a balance of $443 in the treasury.

The local Good Roads Association of Graefstahl sent in a list of sixty-three members who desired to join the county association, with a check for $43 to pay their dues.

As it is expected that the $200,000 to be raised by the County Commissioners will build at least a mile of road more than was listed in the report of the Commissioner adopted by the convention J. D. Connelly, of Clearfield, moved that this mile be constructed on the Edinburg-Bellefonte route between Irwin and Coalport, a section where it is badly needed and which has never had any consideration. The motion was seconded by R. D. Swoope, of Curwensville, and after some discussion, in which the claims of Cooper township were advanced, the motion was adopted.

Applications for State aid roads were received from Huston, Brady, Lawrence, Goshen, Cooper and Sandy townships and placed on file in the order received to await the providing of funds for their improvement following the million dollar bond proposition to be voted on in November.

The applications for improvement of township roads which will have to be built by the county and township alone, without any State aid up to follows, in the order of their priority:

1. Karthaus to Clearfield via O'Shanter.
2. Tyler through Pothold to Sandy township line.
3. Pike township from Curwensville to Olanth.
4. Lawrence township, O'Shanter to Glen Richey.
5. Brady township, a total of 7½ feet on three roads.
6. Cooper township from Graefstahl to Mahaffey.

BREWERS OF BANNED PERCENTAGE BEER TO BE PROSECUTED

Every brewer who has been selling beer brewed since December 1, 1918, with an alcoholic content of one-half of 1 per cent or more is facing a two-year term in jail and a $5000 fine as a result of a decision made yesterday by Ephraim Lederer, collector of internal revenue. This provides for the immediate prosecution of all the brewers who are accused of having defied President Wilson's proclamation, and field agents of the Internal Revenue department will immediately be set to work rounding up offenders. This will include a number of Philadelphia brewers according to one dealer, who said that virtually all have been brewing beer of 2 3-4 per cent. alcohol and a number have been selling it under the advice of counsel. He declared that the brewers would welcome the opportunity to clear up all doubt on the subject by a court decision.

Harry A. Poth, of the Frank A. Poth Brewing company said that the brewers would welcome the test case, as it would force a definition of "intoxicating" liquor. "All we want is our rights," said Mr. Poth. "Congress and the President have both enacted regulations which have to do with intoxicating and non-intoxicating liquors, but no where is 'intoxicating' defined. We wish to state our case to a jury of twelve men and have them decide. We are prepared to produce expert testimony to prove that 2 3-4 per cent. beer is not intoxicating and we wish to have the question settled finally, as our whole business depends upon this question.

"Of course, all beverages containing more than one-half of 1 per cent. of alcohol are required to have revenue stamps. Thus the brewers making the 2 3-4 per cent. beer will probably ask for the stamps and if they are refused will place the money for the stamps to one side. "While I personally do not know of any local brewer who sold the higher percentage beer, nevertheless, if they did so they did it under the advice of our counsel, Messrs. Guthrie and Root. "Statistics prove that the 2 3-4 per cent. beer only has eight-tenths of an ounce of alcohol in a quart of the beverage and this same quart weighs thirty to ounces. The eight-tenths is scattered throughout the entire quart and we can prove that this beverage is non-intoxicating."

Collector Lederer made this statement: "Word has just been received from Commissioner Roper to report to the United States district attorney for prosecution of all brewers who are selling beer of alcoholic content of one-half of one per cent. or more which was made on or after December

Under President's Order

The order comes as the direct result of President Wilson's action in prohibiting the manufacture of intoxicating liquors in order to effect a conservation of grain. Originally all brewing was to have been stopped by this order on December 1, 1918. Later, however, with the end of the war, the President modified his drastic order to allow the manufacture of near beer and other nonintoxicating beverages. Ethel Root and William D. Guthrie were retained by New York brewers to aid them in their fight. The two attorneys fixed the nonintoxicating beverages at the 2 3-4 per cent. alcoholic content. The brewers immediately determined to follow the advice of their counsel, and they were followed by Philadelphia brewers.

Commissioner Roper appealed to Attorney General Palmer to rule on the intoxicating qualities of the beer containing less than the 1 1-2 per cent. alcohol. While the courts have invoked no decision to aid the brewers, the announcement by the internal revenue officials was taken to mean that the attorney general had decided against the brewers.

ANIMAL AND BIRD DISPLAY AT THE Y. M. C. A.

A large crowd of people visited the big free bird and animal show at the Y. M. C. A. last evening. The large stork and talking parrot and Jack Mohney's wild cat are attracting much attention. The Camp Fire booth is beautifully decorated showing their costumes and bead work. They are serving candy and good eats. There is special music and singing every evening. Large, beautiful trout are entered each evening. Open every evening until Saturday evening at 10 o'clock.

You are all invited to the Sunday afternoon meeting at 4 o'clock to hear the truth about the truth. Across the Dead Line Into Amusement. Every body invited.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Thomas K. Barnes, wealthy New Yorker, on a walking trip through New England, is caught in a storm miles from his destination. At a crossroads point he meets a girl in the same plight. While they discuss the situation an automobile, sent to meet the girl, arrives and Barnes is given a lift to Hart's tavern, while the girl is taken on to her destination. The girl is Barnes in a place called Green Fancy.

CHAPTER II—At the tavern Barnes falls in with a stranded troupe of "barnstorming" actors, headed by Lyndon Hushcroft, and becomes interested in them.

CHAPTER III—As the storm grows, Barnes finds himself worrying over the safety of the girl, traveling over the mountain roads in the darkness of night. He learns that Green Fancy is something of a house of mystery. Two mounted men leave the tavern in a manner which arouses Barnes' curiosity.

CHAPTER IV—He meets "Miss Thackeray," leading lady of the stranded theatrical troupe, who is acting as a nursemaid. That night he is aroused by the bringing of a dying man to the tavern, one of the two who had ridden away a short time before. They tell of finding the dead body of the other man. Both had been shot.

CHAPTER V—The wounded man, registered at the tavern as Andrew Allen, and Barnes is informed he must not leave until after the inquest. O'Dowd and De Soto, guests at Green Fancy, leave the tavern, apparently much mystified over the affair.

CHAPTER VI—Barnes advances Rushcroft money sufficient to release the company from its embarrassing position, thereby becoming its official backer. He visits Green Fancy, and in the grounds meets his acquaintance, who is before, finding her a girl of surprising beauty.

CHAPTER VII—She seems not to be desirous of recognizing him, and turns away. O'Dowd appears and in apparently friendly fashion escorts Barnes (who feels he is unwelcome) from the grounds.

CHAPTER VIII—Miss Thackeray warns Barnes that a man stopping at the tavern, especially at such a late hour, is his baggage in his absence. O'Dowd comes to the tavern and with Barnes and others goes over the scene of the night's shooting. Barnes is invited to dinner at Green Fancy.

CHAPTER IX—The acquaintance of the storm is introduced as Miss Cameron. The makeup of the house party is entirely a man introduced to him as "Loeb," and the number of men servants about the place, somewhat astounds Barnes.

CHAPTER X—Miss Cameron informs him she is a prisoner in the house, appealing to him for aid and binding him to secrecy. In conversation with the chauffeur who drives him back to the tavern, Barnes becomes convinced there is a conspiracy of moment hatching at Green Fancy.

CHAPTER XI—At breakfast the supposed book agent introduces himself as Sprague, a government secret agent. Sprague tells Barnes he is there to watch the party at Green Fancy, describing them as refugees from a country overrun by the Germans. He says that Miss Cameron is a relative of the man who is "Loeb," and that she is a girl of enormous value, which Sprague would recover.

CHAPTER XII—Barnes agrees to accompany Sprague on a nocturnal visit to Green Fancy, Sprague with the object of securing the jewels, and Barnes with the hope of rescuing "Miss Cameron."

CHAPTER XIII—They enter the grounds in safety, Sprague overcoming two men evidently on guard. Reaching the house, Barnes sends up, by means of a fishing rod carried by Sprague, a note to "Miss Cameron," informing her of their intention to enter the house. She tries to dissuade them, but Sprague climbs to her room and goes through it in a quest for the crown jewels and state papers.

CHAPTER XIV—Barnes becomes uneasy at Sprague's long absence and follows him, climbing by means of the ivy attached to the wall. While talking to "Miss Cameron" in the room, in the house where they had been, Barnes is detected. Barnes, with Miss Cameron clinging to him, makes his escape to the ground. He loses his sense of location and they become lost, finally taking refuge in a small shed. "Miss Cameron" explains how she was deceived by the house, and was to be married to her will to the man "Loeb," whom she reveals as a prince of the house to which she belongs. They are surprised in the darkness by O'Dowd.

CHAPTER XV—O'Dowd demands the jewels, which he thinks the fugitives have in their possession, not knowing of Sprague's capture. Convinced neither "Miss Cameron" nor Barnes have them, O'Dowd puts them on the right road to the tavern, where Barnes gives the party into the care of Miss Thackeray. Next day O'Dowd tells Barnes Sprague, whom he describes as an expert burglar, got away with the treasure, after killing a guard in the house. O'Dowd and "Loeb" leave Green Fancy.

CHAPTER XVI—Barnes tells "Miss Cameron" of Sprague's treachery, and she tells him the whole story of Green Fancy. The man known as Loeb is her cousin, and he is involved in the house with the object of possessing himself of the jewels, which were in her custody.

CHAPTER XVII.

The Second Wayfarer Is Transformed. O'Dowd returned late in the afternoon. He was in a hurry to get back to Green Fancy; there was no mistaking his uneasiness.

"For the love of heaven, Barnes, get her away from here as soon as possible, and do it as secretly as you can," he said. "I may as well tell you that she is in more danger from the government secret service than from anyone up yonder."

"She may prefer to face the music," O'Dowd said. "If I know her at all, she will refuse to run away."

"Then you'll have to kidnap her," said the Irishman earnestly. "There will be men swarming here from both sides of the border by tomorrow night or next day. It's the gospel truth, and it's going to be bad for all of us if we're here when they come."

"Who is she, O'Dowd? Man to man, tell me the truth. I want to know just where I stand."

O'Dowd hesitated, looked around

the taproom, and then leaned across the table.

"Miss Cameron is in reality the Countess Therese Mara-Dufanda—famously and lovingly known in her own land as the Countess Ted. She was visiting in this country when the war broke out. If it is of any use to you, I'll add that she would be rich if Aladdin could only come to life and restore the splendors of the demolished castle, refill the chests of gold that have been emptied by the conquerors, and restock the farms that have been pillaged and devastated. In the absence of Aladdin, however, she is almost as poor as the ancient church mouse. So there you are, me man. Half the royal progeny of Europe have been suitors for her hand, and the other half would be if they didn't happen to be of the same sex. Good-by. I must be on my way." He rose and held out his hand. "Good-by and good luck forever!"

"You are a brick, O'Dowd. I want to see you again. You will always find me."

"Thanks. Don't issue any rash invitations. I might take you up."

He stepped upstairs as soon as O'Dowd was off, urged by an eagerness that put wings on his feet and a thrill of excitement in his blood. Halfway up he stopped short. A new condition confronted him. What was the proper way to approach a person of royal blood? He would have to think. Pausing at her door, he was at once aware of voices inside the room.

He rapped on the door, but so unceremoniously that nothing came of it. His second effort was productive. He heard Miss Thackeray say "good gracious," and, after a moment, Miss Cameron's subdued: "What is it?"

"May I come in?" he inquired, rather ashamed of his vigor. "It's only Barnes."

"Come in," was her lively response. "It was awfully good of you, Miss Thackeray, to let me hear your lines. I think you will be a great success in the part."

"Thanks," said Miss Thackeray dryly. "I'll come in again and let you hear me in the third act." She went out, mumbling her lines as she passed Barnes without seeing him.

"I hope you will feel able to leave this place tomorrow, countess. We must get away almost immediately."

"Ah, you have been listening to O'Dowd, I see."

"Yes, he tells me it will be dangerous to—"

"He is right. It would be difficult for me to clear myself. No one would believe that I did not deliberately make off with the jewels. They would say that—oh, it is too dreadful!"

"Don't worry about that," he exclaimed. "You have me to testify that—"

"How little you know of intrigue," she cried. "They would laugh at you and say that you were merely another fool who had lost his head over a woman. They would say that I duped you—"

"No!" he cried vehemently. "Your people know better than you think. You are disheartened, discouraged. Things will look brighter tomorrow."

"I don't know what I should do without you," she said.

What The Clearfield National Bank Trust Service Means

A DISTINCTIVE feature of modern financial development—the trust service of a National Bank provides what can not be found in any one individual, no matter how experienced, capable, honest or responsible he may be.

This Bank, with its capital, surplus and profits of over $400,000.00; its stockholders' liability of $400,000.00 can now extend this responsibility to its patrons in any of the duties incident to Trusts:

This includes acting as trustee in all particulars, as executor, administrator, guardian of estates, committee of estates, assignee, receiver, agent, attorney in fact, registrar of stocks and bonds, trustee under corporate mortgage, etc.

THE EXISTENCE OF THIS BANK IS PERPETUAL AND
TRUST DUTIES WILL HAVE UNINTERRUPTED
ATTENTION THROUGH GENERATIONS

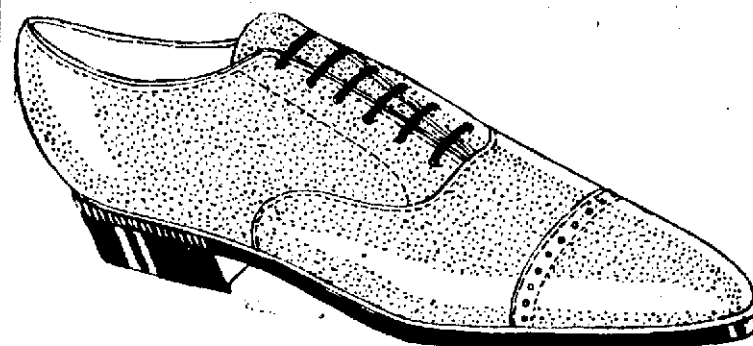

Whoever has accumulated property, even of modest proportions, and would conserve it to his heirs through experience, economical, and safe administration, needs this trust service.

ROGERS SHOWS TIME IS MONEY TO HIM

"I lost less time in traveling through the submarine zone than I did when stomach trouble and gastritis fastened themselves on me," said John R. Rogers, 4334 Frankford ave., Philadelphia, who made two trips to Scotland during the world war. "But Tanlac put an end to my fears. It knocked the stomach trouble and banished belching gas, sour stomach and that ugly taste in the mouth."

"I lost much time at the factory, as I couldn't muster up enough energy to work in a run-down condition. Tanlac was surely a good investment as it put me back on the job. I never felt better in my life, either."

The genuine J. I. Gore Co. Tanlac is sold here by Stevart Drug Co., and Woodward & McTherson and other leading druggists in every community.

SHEEP ENDANGERED BY ENACTMENT OF HOUSE MEASURE

The Far in Bureau has been informed that immediate action is necessary if our present Dog Law is to be held intact. The Pennsylvania Dog Law is not perfect, but it is generally known and described as the best dog law in the United States. At a representative meeting in Harrisburg last winter, sheep raisers and farmers decided to offer no amendments to it and to oppose any effort to tamper with it. Now a bill (House Bill 1000) amending the Dog Law passed the House of Representatives and is now in the hands of the Agricultural Committee of the Senate. This bill cuts out of Section 18 of the Dog Law, the authority of police officers to kill unlicensed dogs, which so amends the Dog Law as to make it worthless. There is considerable pressure back of this bill and it will take decided action to defeat it. The way to kill it is to let every Senator know that farmers are emphatically opposed to any tampering with the best dog law in the United States. Every sheep grower and farmer who is interested in sheep as well as business men should write to S. J. Miller of Madera, our Senator, for this district and urge him to do all that he can to oppose the passage of the Bill. It took years to get our present Dog Law. This law has meant a decided growth in the sheep industry and if this growth is to be continued we must put our shoulder to the wheel and protest for our just rights.

Wool growers, farmers, business men and citizens, every one interested in more economical production of wool, write today! Delay may mean defeat. Act at once.

CHICAGO WASTES LITTLE FOOD

(By United Press)
Washington April 16.—Chicago is the most economical of food among the nation's big cities.

Chicago throws away less food, cuts her potato peelings most thinly, and consumes crusts of bread that make rosy cheeks.

This is indicated by a survey of garbage collection made by the Pittsburgh Sanitary Commission, whose figures are used by the government experts in directing national campaigns for waste elimination.

Washington, the survey shows, is the most prodigal since her municipal garbage collection each year contains 243 pounds of discarded food per inhabitant. Cleveland, with a discard of 166 pounds per person is in the wasteful class. New York despite its title as the big spending town, discards only 157 pounds per person. Chicago discards but 80 pounds per person.

Municipal garbage pails of some other big cities contain: Baltimore 211 pounds per person; Cincinnati 233 pounds; Pittsburgh 236 and Kansas City 209.

Chicago also leads other cities in low costs on garbage collection. She pays but 13 cents per capita for this service each year; St. Paul gets the work done for 17 cents while Cleveland pays 34. Cleveland, however, realizes more from sale of products made from the garbage, since her income from this is $5.20 per ton, while that of Chicago is but $4.24.

Cleveland's high income from reduction products puts her ahead of Chicago, experts found in comparing net cost of collection plus disposal. Cleveland's net cost is $1.54 a ton, while that of Chicago is $2.73.

Experts say Cleveland would be far in the lead if she could reduce collection costs.

Great Britain has 5,400 square miles of coal fields.

NOW IT'S SPRING TAKE CELERY KING

Clean up for spring—that's the right ideal. Drive out the winter waste accumulation. Put the bowels, liver and stomach in good shape and have purer, richer blood.

CELERY KING

Will do it—the whole family, including the children, can take it. Brew a goodly supply every other night and give each a cup. A package costs but a trifle and it is purely vegetable. Celery King will do you much good—it will help the whole family—that worn out feeling will vanish—pimples skin will go and bright eyes and clear complexions will be our reward.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS CURWENSVILLE

L. L. Hile, of Altoona, representing Seabie & Parker Co., of Pittsburgh, dealers in agriculture implements, hardware automobile supplies, etc., visited the patrons of that establishment in this section this week.

Postmaster George Kittberger has been notified by the department that live stock, of the smaller calibre, can be shipped as parcel post matter. Animals consisting of pigs, goats, dogs, chickens, and all such like are listed.

The desecrating of cemeteries by vandals and ill-behaved and thievish knaves is a common thing and it is to be regretted that marauders have not been summarily dealt with and the law resorted to more frequently that the practice might be wiped out. Too many persons of supposed refinement and delicacy have thought nothing of plucking the budding flower or shrub from its resting place on a grave, and with the class a grade lower the downright theft of plants and shrubs is usual. In Curwensville, where few such vandals would be supposed to exist, young people can patrol the cemetery grounds and unblushingly rob the shrines of the dead of the remembrances of friends and even lot owners are said to have transferred flowers and shrubs from other lots to their own. Comment is unnecessary, and it is the intention to hereafter place these brutish thefts before the public and in the hands of the law for redress, and this heathenish part of the matter will doubtless be attended to. The deliberate plucking of flowers is second only in enormity to stealing the plant and it is to be hoped that all persons so bereft of delicacy as to engage in such nefarious violation of principle and property will also be promptly dealt with. Last year, after Memorial day had passed, many complaints were heard that flowers that had been placed on the graves were taken and no trace of them could be found.

The way we sometimes measure things is mysterious: How apt we are to whip out the foot rule of egotistic self-conceit and undertake the measurement of the grandest things in the universe. It is but natural that we do this—measure all things and people from our own standpoint—yet how desirable is that control of the faculties alluded to, which assures to everything and everybody a just respect. A large class of people can give due respect to the great things of the world but fall short in the everyday hustle and bustle of contact with the little things of existence; perhaps nineteenth of God's human creation are either extreme or moderate egotists without knowing it; and even the finding of the foot rule in the pockets of a subject would not convince him of his falling.

Manufactures of any kind are a blessing to a town if the labor employed is sufficient to stimulate trade by the added population. A little intelligent investigation and planning will often secure such things yet citizens are usually slow very slow, to help themselves by such action.

Memorial Day will soon be upon us. What is Curwensville going to do in regard to its observance? Time is everything; do not wait until the last minute to prepare for it.

Lex Bailey of Philipsburg, who has been serving in overseas duty for several months and who was returned to this country a short time ago, spent yesterday with friends here.

I Certainly Am Glad I Tried It

"I first bought Purity Margarine to use in my cooking, but I found it so good and tasty that I soon promoted it to the dinner table. And now I wouldn't have anything else."

"I say this not only because it sells for one-third less per pound than butter, but because I really like its flavor. 'Butter's successor' is what they call it, and that's exactly what it is."

"You color 'Purity' at home with the very same coloring that the butter manufacturers use to color butter, and hardly one person in a hundred can tell the difference."

"As for food value, I learned the other day that the proportion of fat in margarine is exactly the same as in an average specimen of butter. That's an interesting thing to remember."

80TH DIVISION IS EXPECTED TO COME HOME LATE IN MAY

According to letters received by relatives of men in the Eightieth Division, they will arrive by May 15, if not earlier.

The Eightieth Division, mobilized and trained at Camp Lee, comprises more Pittsburgh and Allegheny County men than any other fighting unit sailing for France. There are Pittsburgh boys in the Three Hundred and Seventeenth, Three Hundred and Eighteenth, Three Hundred and Nineteenth and Three Hundred and Twentieth Infantry regiments in the Three Hundred and Fifth Field Signal Battalion, in the Three Hundred and Fifth Engineer Corps, and in the Three Hundred and Thirteenth, Three Hundred and Fourteenth and Three Hundred and Fifteenth Machine Gun Battalions.

The Eightieth Division, according to word received in Washington, passed from the command of the First Army corps March 20, having been instructed at that time to prepare for return to the United States. An official review of the division's achievements since its arrival in France May 30, 1918, is given in a general order signed by W. M. Fasset, chief of staff to Maj. Gen. Wright and by Lieut. Col. H. M. Nelly, adjutant.

The division trained with the British troops and was on active duty with them in the Aisne sector, near Arras, in July and August, 1918. The division was in reserve at the battle of St. Mihiel, except the Three Hundred and Twentieth Infantry and the Three Hundred and Fifteenth Machine Gun Battalion, which took part in the operations of the Second French Colonial corps. From September 26 to 29, inclusive, the division attacked at Bethincourt with the Third Corps and advanced nine kilometers in two days.

Then the division was withdrawn from the line for five days, and again attacked October 4 at Nantillois. In nine days of heavy fighting through the Bois Des Ognons an advance of four kilometers was made. Then the division was again withdrawn from the line (October 12) for re-equipment and replacements. The men moved forward October 29 and 30 and re-entered the line at St. George-St. Julien.

The Eightieth division passed under the orders of the First Army Corps October 23 in the Le Claux-Le Neufour area, west of the Argonne forest. The division attacked November 1, as the right division of the First Corps, and in six days advanced six kilometers. The division was relieved from the line November 6, with its patrols on the west bank of the Meuse.

From November 18 to December 1 the Eightieth marched 221 kilometers to the Fifteenth training area at Ancy-le-France. The artillery of the division was part of the time detached from the division and was in action from September 26 to November 11. The division remained in the Fifteenth training area up to the time it received order to prepare for embarkation.

The Eightieth division, according to general orders, was given difficult tasks on the front line, and "in accomplishing them made a splendid record." The corps commander expressed his appreciation for the soldierly achievements of the division during the time it served with the First Corps. "The division," says the order, "leaves on the first part of its journey with the corps commander's congratulations for its excellent record and his wishes for a speedy return to the United States and a successful future."

SHADOW SOCIAL

Class No 7 of the United Brethren in Christ church will hold a Shadow Social at the home of Miss Margaret Buck on Seventh Street Friday evening April 18. The money raised will be applied to the Easter offering. Everyone invited.

George Brenize, formerly of Clearfield, has arrived at Camp Sherman, where he will be mustered out of the army after a service of three years, one-half of which time was spent in France. The young man has a fine record as a soldier and will reside in Akron, Ohio.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, gripping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without gripping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive taste. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

On Easter Sunday--

Show Your Devotion To Her

LOOK your handsomest. Make her prouder of you than ever at church or calling. Clean-cut, well-fitting clothes emphasize the virility of American men. No one can afford to neglect his apparel. It has a recognized influence on one's self respect—successful men realize this and devote the necessary attention to their appearance.

Society Brand Clothes

assure you of dependable materials and tailoring. Dominant, forceful styles without exaggeration—workmanship that is careful to the last degree, patterns that meet the most exacting taste.

Season after season these clothes are chosen by the notable well dressed men of Clearfield who have learned by experience to trust our judgment.

We have haberdashery to harmonize with these suits and top-coats—ties, gloves, shirts and everything else to make you look your best on Easter.

ANY JUNK?

Look around the house. Convert that old iron, those old rags, that old clothing, those old rubbers, etc., into cash.

Call me on the phone and ask me the price that I'll pay per pound for these things.
